The Ministry of Labour's Chief Prevention Officer established a standard for working at heights training that applies to all Ontario workplaces. It lays out what each worker needs to learn when taking mandatory working at heights training.

IHSA was one of the first approved training partners in 2015. Since then, we have worked hard to provide a quality program to thousands of workers, supervisors, owners, and students in Ontario.

IHSA would like to thank its staff members in training, administration, customer service, marketing and communications, and program development, as well as the many associate training partners in the industry for their contributions.

Between April 1, 2015, and March 31, 2017, IHSA and its training partners provided working at heights training to 99,824 people. We've now trained more than 100,000. In addition, we continue to provide training in English, French, and 10 other languages.

Thank you for your contribution.
Your efforts will help everyone we've trained Work Safe for Life.
